Community Commitment Annual Report

Newport News Nuclear BWXT-Los Alamos, LLC (N3B) has made a commitment to support Northern New Mexico nonprofit organizations, community programs and workforce training initiatives by contributing five percent of the award fee it earns over the life of its contract with the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) Environmental Management Los Alamos Field Office (EM-LA).

In 2023, N3B's community commitment expenditures totaled $500,000. Charitable and community program donations accounted for $349,865 of this amount and $150,000 was devoted to local workforce development through the Nuclear Operator Apprenticeship Program N3B offers in partnership with Northern New Mexico College.

The financial contributions from N3B supported the initiatives, programs and community events of 44 Northern New Mexico organizations that serve residents of the communities where N3B's team members live. N3B carefully considered requests from these groups to ensure they supported N3B's outreach mission of:

- ✓ Promoting STEM, childhood and remedial education
- ✓ Addressing the needs of underserved populations
- ✓ Improving community-wide quality of life
- ✓ Promoting economic development

In addition to these financial contributions, N3B's team members at all levels were personally engaged with more than 37 local nonprofit groups, providing their time and talents during their off hours.

N3B Grants Address Important Community Needs

In 2023, N3B contributed to a variety of groups in four general categories: Education, Health & Human Services, Arts & Culture, and Civic & Community. Following are some of the funding highlights.

N3B provided $6,500 to the Los Alamos Community Foundation to sponsor and underwrite costs for their web-based, community-wide volunteer management portal (<https://www.volunteerlosalamos.org>). This is a user-friendly website where non-profit organizations post their needs for volunteer support and where individual volunteers can find opportunities that match their skills and schedules. N3B will promote this opportunity to team members in 2024.

2023 was the fourth year N3B has supported the National Dance Institute of New Mexico (NDI-NM), a program that uses the arts to help children develop discipline, a standard of excellence and a belief in themselves that will last a lifetime. N3B's $15,000 contribution sponsored outreach activities and engagement that brought the NDI-NM 25-week, school-based program to disadvantaged students in seven schools in the Española area.

N3B contributed $2,000 to the Winter Clothing Drive of the Los Alamos Juvenile Justice Advisory Board (JJAB). The JJAB funds 16 programs serving Los Alamos youth and families to help young people feel connected and supported in their community. The Winter Clothing Drive provides warm outerwear, including coats, boots and hats, to those who cannot afford them.

N3B was a significant financial supporter of the United Way of Northern New Mexico "Giving Thanks – Giving Back" November holiday event in 2023. This $14,000 contribution helped pay for Thanksgiving food baskets for low-income families in Rio Arriba and Los Alamos counties and replenish the Northern New Mexico College Food Pantry accessed by students and their families.

Workforce Development Initiatives

N3B sponsored the Nuclear Operator Apprenticeship Program once again in 2023 with expenditures totaling $150,000. The two-year work-study apprenticeship program is operated in partnership with Northern New Mexico College (NNMC).

Two local students graduated from the program in August 2023: Dominic Montañó, who grew up in Tierra Amarilla, north of Los Alamos, and Milnor Branch from Española. The two students completed supervised on-the-job training at legacy cleanup sites at the Los Alamos National Laboratory (LANL) and coursework through the Española campus of NNMC.

Four apprentices are currently enrolled in the program. Two are in their second year and will graduate in August 2024. Two others entered the program in the fall of 2022 and will graduate in August 2025.

Apprentices work as full-time N3B employees and receive a competitive salary with full benefits. Upon successful completion of the program, they remain with N3B as full-time nuclear operators, responsible for monitoring safety compliance and supporting daily operations related to the LANL legacy hazardous and radioactive waste that N3B manages and ships off-site for permanent disposal.

Apprenticeship classes are held at the N3B Workplace Training Center

"The apprenticeship was a turning point in my life and career. I plan to pursue an environment-related bachelor's degree at some point, but in the meantime, I'll try to move up the ladder at N3B – hopefully into a managerial or supervisory position."

"This seemed like a really good way to obtain a specialized skill and an associate degree at the same time. I definitely want to continue my education and earn my bachelor's degree and remain in this region."

Volunteer Activities

N3B encourages its team members to support nonprofit organizations in Northern New Mexico. To spur even more activity, N3B has implemented an online tool where they can record time they contribute to local nonprofit groups important to them, including those related to youth sports, local culture, youth development and education.

In 2023, N3B's team members donated nearly 3,100 hours of their time supporting these and other organizations:

- 801 Labs
- Acequia del Rincon
- Acequia Mariano
- Alpha Zeta Adopt-A-Family

Company-Sponsored Memberships

As part of N3B's commitment to the Northern New Mexico community, the company supported and engaged with two local chambers of commerce in 2023 that are working diligently to enhance the business environment in this region.

- Española Valley Chamber of Commerce, which provides an important vehicle for businesses and business professionals to collaborate in making the community a vibrant place to live, work and visit, while building upon cultural strengths.
- Los Alamos Chamber of Commerce, whose mission is to build a vibrant community through a thriving economy. In 2023, N3B also participated in the organization's ChamberFest, ScienceFest and Trick or Treat on Main Street.

Summary

Leaders of N3B and N3B's parent companies view the Community Commitment program and team member volunteerism as an important opportunity to enhance the lives of individuals, families and communities in the Northern New Mexico region. Individually and as an organization, we're investing our time, spirit and creativity, as well as financial resources, in this effort.

N3B's commitment to improve the lives of people in this region mirrors the company's efforts to clean up legacy waste at Los Alamos National Laboratory and improve the local environment. It's a privilege to support our Northern New Mexico communities in both ways.
